

City of Brampton, Ontario Selects Bullzi Security's Web-based Information Security Education (WISE) Program

Toronto, ON, and Lake Mary, Florida, September 25, 2007 – Bullzi Security Inc. (BLLZ.pk), a leading provider of converged security solutions has been chosen by the City of Brampton to roll out its WISE Security Awareness solution to all City employees.

According to Thomas Welch, President and CEO of Bullzi Security, “Brampton adds to our expanding portfolio of Ontario-based clients. We’re thrilled that Chris Moore, Brampton’s CIO is leading this initiative to help to minimize the risk of cyber threats to City assets. In order to meet a level of best security practices, Brampton will be rolling out Bullzi’s Web-based Information Security Education (WISE) series to all 2,000 employees.”

Mr. Welch went on to say, “It is refreshing that Brampton executives understand the importance of information security. They are implementing this program to educate their employees on a variety of essential security topics. In order to prevent a security breach, it is essential that all staff understand the types of threats they may encounter in the course of doing business. As such, Brampton is advancing this initiative in an effort to minimize the opportunity for a security incident to occur. Brampton chose the WISE solution based upon its comprehensive security content and multimedia capabilities, as well as its ability to be customized to the City’s specific needs.”

Mr. Welch closed in saying, “In addition to the WISE Information Security Awareness Program, Brampton also purchased Course Creator, Bullzi Security’s course authoring tool. Brampton intends to use this tool to create other eLearning courses for City employees.”
